Viet Reds Attack Cambodian Areas; Rockets Hit Saigon

SAIGON (AP) — The North Vietnamese and Viet Cong marked the 16th anniversary of the Geneva Agreements on Indochina today with a rash of attacks in Cambodia and along Vietnam's demilitarized zone, and the first rocket attack on Fighting flared in eight areas of Cambodia, in a wide arc around Phnom Penh, the capital.

The South Vietnamese government said its infantrymen, bombers and artillery killed 69 North Vietnamese and Viet Cong in clashes near the provincial capital of Svay Rieng and the towns of Kompong Trabek and Tuk Meas, on the highway between Saigon and Phnom Penh. Six South Vietnamese were reported killed and 23 wounded.

A Cambodian spokesman in Phnom Penh said enemy troops overran a small post at Strang, 32 miles southwest of Phnom Penh, but most of the garrison had slipped out of the village before the attack "so now we have the Viet Cong encircled."

The North Vietnamese and Viet Cong also struck anew at Cambodian forces on the Kiri Rom plateau, 50 miles west of Phnom Penh, which enemy troops had held for six days and from which they withdrew last Thursday after inflicting heavy casualties on the Cambodians.

The Cambodian spokesman also reported: "Enemy troops fought their way into the outskirts of Kompong Chhnang, a provincial capital 56 miles north of Phnom Penh, and seized a school."

Sporadic fighting occurred around Saang, a town 19 miles south of Phnom Penh that has been the scene of three major battles.

South Vietnamese President Nguyen Van Thieu's Independence Palace apparently was the target of two 100-pound rockets that landed in the heart of Saigon about 3:30 a.m. One came down in the grounds in front of the palace, breaking some windows and causing no casualties.

The other crashed through the roof of a three-story apartment house about three blocks away, but none of those sleeping in the building were hurt.

It was the first rocket attack on Saigon since May 12, when three missiles hit the city and four persons were wounded.

The U.S. Command reported that a cargo-carrying U.S. Marine helicopter accidentally dropped a slingload of mortar ammunition and gasoline drums on a Vietnamese hamlet 16 miles south of Da Nang Sunday, destroying 22 houses and damaging 25.

"We appear to be still tied up with today's problems—the problems already occurring. We attack them from the backside rather than meet them head-on. If all of us could look into the future we could look at problems from the front side,"

After Armstrong, Aldrin and command module pilot Michael Collins returned from their epic journey, interest in further manned exploration of the moon waned quickly. Apollo 12, the second moon landing, was accepted in a relatively routine fashion, particularly after its television camera quit almost at the outset.

Apollo 13 also got a lot of yawns until an explosion created the greatest crisis of any space flight to date.

Ohio Weekend Traffic Toll Mounts; 22 Persons Killed

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

The death count dipped dramatically Sunday, but Ohio traffic accidents still claimed 22 lives over the weekend.

The toll compares with an average of about 17 for non-holiday weekends so far this year.

Biggest contributor to the highway carnage was a quad-rupe-death smashup on a freeway near Lima Saturday.

Five of the deaths occurred Sunday. The count began at 6 p.m. Friday and ended at midnight Sunday.

The dead:

Education Bill Veto Override Seen Certain

GOP Leaders Tell President Move Would Fail

WASHINGTON (AP) — Republican leaders on Capitol Hill have advised President Nixon he may be overruled by Congress if he vetoes another mammal education appropriation bill for the sake of economy.

Nixon seemed to suggest a possible veto in a sharply critical statement this weekend, citing the $4.4 billion money bill as a sample of excessive congressional spending votes.

"This is a time when the taxpayers of the United States will not tolerate irresponsible spending," the President said Saturday.

Nixon said there is a danger of massive federal deficits and renewed inflation if spending is not held in rein.

Expressing deepening concern about the course of the Democratic-controlled Congress, Nixon said, "For just one example, the Congress seems on the verge of approving an education appropriation bill that provides nearly half a billion dollars more than I requested."

Senate action on the compromise education appropriation is likely later this week. The House approved it 357 to 30, a vote far above the two-thirds tally it would take to override a veto.

The veto possibility, and the risk of an administration rebuff, came up when GOP leaders conferred for 90 minutes Thursday with top budget and congressional liaison officials.

Senate Republican Leader Hugh Scott said there was no specific veto warning.

But other sources said the possibility of a veto came up in connection with the education bill, and the administration officials were told Republicans probably would be hard pressed to sustain one.

Philadelphia Jet Crash Investigated

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — Federal investigators are trying to find out what made a United Air Lines jetliner crash during takeoff at Philadelphia International Airport.

The twin-engine Boeing 737 lost power as it rose to about 50 feet above the runway Sunday, then bellyflopped into a marshy area. There were 56 passengers and a crew of six aboard, of whom 11 were injured and three hospitalized.

The most serious injury was an ankle fracture suffered by Ellen Farr, 50, of Ridgewood, Ont., when she caught her foot sliding down an emergency exit chute.

William T. Burns, director of aviation for the U.S. Department of Commerce, said the 67-seat craft came down about 700 feet from the end of the runway, then skidded off into the marshy area after one of the wheels collapsed.

Burns said the crash was caused by "some kind of power failure; we don't know what."

The plane was scheduled Flight 611 to Buffalo, N.Y. It took off at 7:05 p.m., about 15 minutes late.

About one-third of the passengers boarded an Eastern Airlines flight to Buffalo two hours later. The rest returned to their homes or nearby hotels.

McGovern Backs Israel Jet Sale

WASHINGTON (AP) — The United States should sell warplanes to Israel but should obtain a commitment that the jets will not be used for flights over Arab territory, says Sen. George S. McGovern, D-S.D.

First, higher electric rates. Many utilities have fuel adjustment clauses which allow for rate increases when fuel prices rise. Some companies which don't have such contract provisions, such as Philadelphia Electric Co., are asking state legislatures for them.

Second, industries which can't

What might this shortage mean?

Residual fuel oil—the heavy oil left over after aviation fuel, gasoline and higher grade products have been refined from crude oil—is used by electric utilities to power generators which produce electricity. It is

Pentagon 'Overruns' Jump Another $3.6 Billion

Proxmire Lashes War Waste

SEN. PROXIMIRE

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. William Proxmire, taking aim on defense spending, says cost overruns on 38 of the Pentagon's major weapons systems leaped $3.6 billion in a recent nine-month period to a total of $23.8 billion.

Releasing a General Accounting Office report as debate on the Senate's $19.2 billion military procurement bill started up again today, the Wisconsin Democrat said the increases would have included another $2.7 billion had not the Pentagon cut back the scope of five programs.

Proxmire said a GAO report in June 1969 revealed overruns totaling $20.2 billion. The latest report, covering a period from June 30, 1969, through March 31, 1970, showed the $3.6 billion boost in overruns, Proxmire said.

"What these disturbing figures indicate to me is that the Department of Defense has not yet learned how to control the costs of major weapons systems," he said.

"In my judgment," he said, "the cost overruns in these programs are largely the result of waste and mismanagement. They represent public funds that are being used foolishly and that probably ought not to be spent by the Department of Defense at all."

Proxmire, chairman of the subcommittee on economy in government, said the panel would continue to examine the cost overrun problem in military procurement.

He has said also he will join with other senators in attempts to trim up to $5 billion from the procurement bill, which is the Pentagon's shopping list for new planes, ships, missiles, tanks and other weapons.

The GAO report said major overruns have occurred in four programs: $1.75 billion for the Safeguard ABM, $291 million for the P3C aircraft, $464.4 million for the Minuteman II missile and $1.14 billion for the Minuteman III.

Only in the Minuteman III program, Proxmire said, were the added costs caused to any large degree by purchases of additional weapons. But even in that program, he said, a sizable cost increase occurred for other reasons.

In its current issue, Time reports that the United States has increased surveillance flights by U2 aircraft and satellites to one a day, the highest number since the missile crisis of 1962.

The weekly news magazine says that since April, Soviet TU-95 bombers have made six flights to Havana, probably on reconnaissance missions and to deliver military supplies.

"The flights may also be an effort to test the U.S. response; since there was no reaction following the first two flights in April, four more followed," the magazine says.

"Three or four Soviet aircraft are now appearing on U.S. mainland radar screens every 24 hours, the largest number ever," Time says, adding there have been reports of Soviet Komar-class missile boats off Key Biscayne, Fla. The boats were "outside the 12-mile international limit, but well within their missiles' 25-mile range of the Florida White House," Time says.

The Ancerville was bound for Casablanca, Morocco, when it was diverted to the rescue. It arrived about seven hours after the Fulvia's SOS and found the lifeboats about half a mile from the Fulvia.

The Ancerville was bound for Santa Cruz Sunday night. The Fulvia was reported ablaze from stem to stern and listing heavily to port.

At least three passengers were injured.

The Fulvia, in a distress signal early Sunday, reported a fire in its engine room after an explosion. Half an hour later the order to abandon ship was given.

The sea was calm, and passengers said there was no panic as they were loaded into the lifeboats.

Heavy, low-lying fog and hundreds of floating icebergs hampered the search Sunday for the four-engine Antonov 22 that disappeared Saturday between Iceland and Halifax. Rescue officials believed at least 23 persons were aboard.

Five American, Canadian and Danish planes were searching. Officials said neither oil slicks nor suspicious debris had been sighted.

TEL AVIV (AP) — Israel threw jet strikes at Arab positions on three fronts Sunday, pounding Egyptian targets along the Suez Canal and guerrilla posts in Jordan and Lebanon, the military command announced.

Commissioner Robert Mace pointed out that this is just a preliminary budget, and that it will be balanced by Jan. 1, 1971.

Mondale said he had invited officials of NBC and the Coca-Cola company to testify about reports Coca-Cola pressured the network to tone down its documentary on migrants. Coca-Cola, which owns the Minute Maid and Snow Crop brands of orange juice, is a major Florida citrus producer.

"Nothing will change until this rotten system is exposed and held accountable," Sen. Walter F. Mondale, D-Minn., said in a statement for today's opening of a two-day inquiry by his subcommittee on migrants.

The first scheduled witness was Dr. Raymond Wheeler of Charlotte, N.C., one of a team of foundation-sponsored doctors who visited Texas and Florida migrant camps earlier this year and reported that workers were deliberately kept in "sub-human status."

Mondale noted the hearings will tell you that welfare is the No. 1 problem in this country today," said host Gov. Gov. James A. Rhodes.

"We have to break the welfare cycle," Rhodes added. He said the federal government must look to job training as the answer.

President Nixon, he said, was the first chief executive in history to look for a new approach. "Up until he got into office, we had shotgun, band-aid programs."

Gov. Louis B. Nunn of Kentucky agreed.

"It may not be on the agenda," said Nunn, "but I can assure you that every governor here feels as Rhodes does."

Thirteen governors from the 15 states comprising the conference are attending the three-day session that ends Wednesday.

The plane carrying Kansas' Docking developed engine trouble on the way to Columbus and turned back. The governor and his party arrived by commercial airline.

Rhodes, two-term governor who cannot succeed himself, welcomed the governors to the Galbreath reception.

Preliminary County Budget Lists Deficit Of $78,323

County commissioners Monday approved a preliminary 1971 budget with a general fund deficit of $78,323.31.

The general fund budget calls for an expenditure of $679,698.31 with an expected income of $601,375.

The sanitary landfill project was briefly reviewed by the commissioners, but no action was taken. The current landfill site near Ohio 41-N, south of Jeffersonville, is expected to be closed within one month due to depletion of available land.

fewer burdens on the environment.

"And higher prices for the products that dirty the air and water would induce households to alter their buying habits," the report stated.

Looking toward the end of the decade, the panel forecast the possibility of a one-shot birth-control device which could regulate fertility for a year; three-dimensional television; an increase in human organ transplants; control of the weather, and the use of chemicals to stimulate learning and memory.

Regarding schooling, the presidential study group said, "Many people feel that too-great emphasis is already being placed on post-secondary education, particularly on the four-year degree, and that possibly there are many students now in college who do not really want to be there."

Perhaps college should be de-emphasized, the panel said. But in any case, the nation should examine approaches to higher education.

Oil Shortage

Coal was responsible for 51 per cent of the electric power generated in the United States in 1969. Natural gas accounted for 23 per cent, residual oil for 10 per cent, nuclear power for 14 per cent and hydro-electric power the rest.

But according to Chase Manhattan Bank figures, residual oil demand is up 15.6 per cent this year. This compares with, according to other figures, a 2 per cent jump in demand between 1967 and 1968 and an 8 per cent increase between 1968 and 1969.

The 1970 estimate called for a growth in demand for residual oil of 4 per cent, which is unrealistically low," one petroleum industry source said.

The supply of residual fuel oil, according to Oil Daily, has been declining. In mid-June supplies totaled about 47.5 million barrels, a decline of 23.4 per cent from the supply in June 1969.

The shortage has led many concerns to buy oil from abroad. At the same time the shortage has resulted in a clamor for relaxed oil import restrictions.

But there is some question whether relaxed quotas can alleviate the shortage.

Industry sources say less low-sulphur oil will be available from European refineries, formerly a prime source for such oil, because the Europeans also are faced with sulphur restrictions passed to limit air pollution.

In addition, the government of Libya, an area which produces oil naturally low in sulphur, has recently been ordering foreign producers to cut back oil production.

Residual oil is available from Caribbean and Venezuelan wells, but that oil is high in sulphur. Desulphurizing that oil, which some refineries are planning to do, is expensive.

One industry source said the petroleum industry will have to change production methods. This may involve sacrificing some profits, the source said.

Juvenile Court Lists Activities

Fayette County Juvenile Court handled 33 cases during June, according to its monthly report.

The court handled alleged cases of 5 delinquents, 14 traffic offenders, 6 dependent and neglected children, 5 adults and 3 unruly children.

The French boxer of the first World War was noted for its capacity of "40 men and eight horses."

The suit was filed against Eve Productions, Inc.

The judges were Raymond Shannon, Otis R. Hess and Richard Hildebrand.

Young Calls For Black Coalition

NEW YORK (AP) — Whitney M. Young Jr., executive director of the National Urban League, has called for a unified black coalition to meet with white leaders and negotiate for social change.

"The two Americas—black and white—need each other," he said.

Young, saying he does not believe the Nixon administration is consciously antiblack, issued his call Sunday as the league opened its 60th annual convention.

The suit was filed against Eve Productions, Inc.

The judges were Raymond Shannon, Otis R. Hess and Richard Hildebrand.

George V. Fenner, Dock Strike Hits British Housewives

LONDON (AP) — In only five days, Britain's dock strike has struck the housewife a low blow in the family budget, Agriculture Minister James Prior confirmed today in a personal tour of London's big markets.

He found abrupt price increases imposed by wholesalers, heard bitter complaints from retailers who said they had little choice but to pass them on without gain, only inspiring rancor from the customer.

Prior indicated this would be a major part of his report to Prime Minister Edward Heath's Cabinet, which is treading the delicate path of decision about using troops to unload perishable foods.

The decision may hinge largely upon a report from Employment Minister Robert Carr. He has been the man closest in touch with negotiations involving the 47,000 longshoremen and is trying to work out just how long the strike is likely to last.

The strike is to enforce a demand by the four unions involved for the basic weekly rate of the equivalent of $26.40 to be raised to $48. The basic rate is only used to calculate overtime, bonus payments and vacation pay. Average weekly earnings of longshoremen are about $86.40. If the strikers' claim is met it would mean average weekly earnings of $132.

WASHINGTON (AP) — The government went to court today to fight for equal employment rights for women for the first time since job discrimination against the fair sex was banned by the Civil Rights Act of 1964.

The move was made in a suit filed against Libbey-Owens-Ford Co., Inc., United Glass and Ceramic Workers of North America, AFL-CIO, and its local No. 9. The Justice Department said women workers in the company's Toledo plants were discriminated against.

Cottage Improvements Can Be Investments

By VIVIAN BROWN
AP Newfeatures Writer

You can make improvements in that vacation cottage and the investment should pay off next year, whether you rent it or use it yourself.

The usual thing is to patch, repair, paint and polish before the season begins. You might get a higher rental and an extra week's use of the vacation spot.

If remodeling is necessary, and you can afford it, it may be easier to hire a carpenter during this slow-building period. Or you might prefer to do the chores yourself.

Here are some ideas:

IF FLOORS are bad and you have had to paint and repair them each year, consider using wall to wall carpeting. Some of the new shags are great, and some fibers — dacron, nylon and so on — make it possible to have yummy colors such as orange or hot pink.

These lively floor coverings go a long way toward making a vacation cottage look cheerful. You can tack carpet to the floor in a few places or put it down over rug tape. It will be a simple matter to have the rug cleaned before the season begins, and you won't have the back-breaking job of conditioning floors.

A rug bought at the end of the season for next year's use may seem like a financial burden, but it is really a wise investment.

The house may be one with easy-care floor tiles that do not require a rug or much work to keep them looking attractive. Terrazzo patterned vinyls fall into that category.

They always look clean and attractive and are particularly suited to heavily trafficked area.

INFLATABLE CHAIRS are great for they may be inflated easily with the vacuum cleaner, and you may sit in them while wearing a wet bathing suit. Canvas African-style sling chairs are good.

And wicker painted in bright colors can liven up the atmosphere. But you should have a comfortable upholstered piece, chair or sofa, and these days, you can find one that may be spot treated for stains.

Plexiglass tables, a see-through idea, provide an airy, clean look for small places and require no paint or polish, although they may need scribbings.

If you close the cottage for six or more months of the year, good sturdy wall paneling may be preferable to paint and wallpaper. Pine boards may be pickled by rubbing in some white paint that has been thinned by turpentine (ask your paint store man how to do this).

PECKY CYPRUS, the wood that looks as if woodpeckers had pecked it, is popular for walls in beach houses, especially the white cypress. It is expensive, but if one wants to weigh cost against long-run value, it may be well worth it.

Rough-sawn cedar is another wood that may be used, but its cigar-box color doesn't provide such cheerful effects as the whitish boards.

Some people use the same dreary furnishings in a cottage year after year, and they wonder why they cannot get better rental fee for it.

The "brown look" which may be found at the mountains or shore is almost standard in old cottages. The brown taste in your mouth begins with the dirty brown furniture, and spills over to the scared, painted brown floors, and the chewing gum that has been ground over the years into the women (brown) summer rug that looks as if it had never been cleaned.

There are old lamps with battered beige shades and walls that look as if they had been painted with glue. It's a hot heavy look with its overstuffed chairs and beatup end tables.

THE LESS SAID about the kitchen in such a house, the better. If you can get anything to work, you are lucky.

Leaves with three different shapes can grow on a single branch of the sassafras tree.

A Use For 'No Returns'

It is gratifying to observe the growth of awareness that to solve its problem of solid waste disposal our society must turn more and more to recycling and reusing materials.

Some relatively small efforts along these lines have begun. There ought to be many more, and on a much larger scale — systems for collecting and making further use of discarded paper, cans, bottles and the like.

One of the more promising enterprises of this kind is that announced by the Glass

Container Manufacturers Institute. Its plan for redemption of bottles marked "no deposit no return" may mark an important forward step.

The bottle makers say they hope to establish collection centers in 27 states, paying a penny a pound for discarded bottles. These will be ground up for reuse. The waste glass — it is called "cullet" — reportedly can supply some 30 per cent of the material needed for the new container.

Presumably the manufacturers of glass containers have decided that this is an economic procedure. That, in any case, is the heart of the matter — so far as voluntary effort by private industry is concerned, at least. If the glass bottle recovery program pays off, doubtless other industries will be inclined to follow suit.

Meanwhile, government at all levels ought to do whatever it can to encourage recycling of solid wastes and to develop appropriate large-scale techniques.

Labor May Jump The Traces This Year

THESE DAYS.... By John Chamberlain

Al Barkan, the director of the AFL-CIO's Committee on Political Education (COPE), is officially optimistic about his ability to elect pro-labor Democrats to the Senate and the House this autumn.

"COPE," he says, "is in a helluva lot better shape in 1970 to do a helluva lot better job . . . than the experts predict."

No doubt Al Barkan is well fixed for money to promote his candidates, and this perhaps explains his optimism. Nevertheless, this could be the year that money loses.

With the hard hats lining up against the college radicals, it takes no "expert" to see that "labor" in 1970, exhibits a split personality. On the one hand, Al Barkan's clientele is undoubtedly for all the goodies that labor traditionally wants: better pay, more fringe benefits, a defense of what they used to call in Roosevelt's day, "labor's gains."

So why wouldn't a Democrat, Richard Ottiger, or a liberal Republican swinger, Charles Goodell, get the support of workers in New York State? Why wouldn't the Rev. Joseph Duffy, an American for the union man must make up his mind somehow. And it won't be Al Barkan's money that decides for him.

PRESIDENT George Meany of the AFL-CIO, who is Al Barkan's employer, could provide an interesting answer to these questions if he only would. For Meany's foreign policy — and, by extension, the foreign policy stand of the AFL-CIO — is the Nixon policy. Meany is a simple, old-fashioned patriot who wants us to wind up the war in Vietnam in an honorable fashion, with no surrender to the Communists. Many in his unions think the same way. So the union voter may find himself pulled in two directions when he enters the polling booth next November.

As a union man, could he vote for a Republican — or a conservative? Perhaps not. But as a patriotic follower of George Meany's foreign policy line, could he vote for a dove congressman even though the dove goes right down the line on bread-and-butter issues again, perhaps not.

But, despite the "perhapses,"

DEAR ABBY: I am a boy and also a junior in high school.

I became friends with a girl who is a senior. She is married and her husband is in the service. We are not serious or anything like that, we are just good friends. The day school let out for vacation, this girl went to be with her husband, but before she left, she gave me a picture of herself, and a very nice I.D. bracelet, which she asked me to wear. I was honored.

When I got home my parents were all upset. My mother wanted me to send the picture back, and the bracelet, too. I am not worried about what my parents or anybody else thinks.

She is a very nice girl, Abby, and I would like to marry someone like her someday, but not her, and not now.

I would greatly value your advice and opinion on this touchy and personal subject.

SINCERELY

DEAR SINCERELY: I think you are fascinated by the "friendship" of this senior-type older woman. You may consider her "just a friend," but I suspect you are more than "just a friend" in her view. She's married, and as such she's out of bounds. Your parents are right.

DEAR ABBY: At the age of 21, and should have been old enough to know better, I was trapped into marrying a girl I didn't love. She had a baby 5 months after we were married and I am about 99 per cent sure this baby is not mine, but there is no way I can prove it.

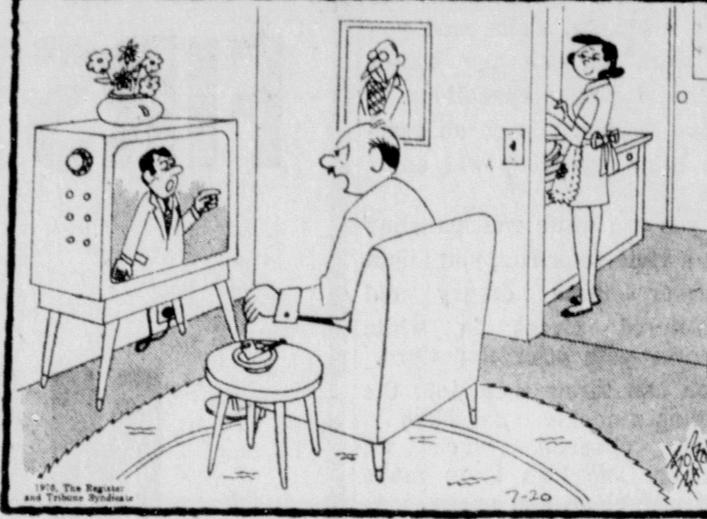

She was not a very good wife and we didn't get along at all, so we were separated for 13 months, then she had another baby. There is no way this child could be mine, but since I am her legal husband I must support it. She was a bum when I married her and she hasn't changed any. I know I'll never live with her, but it's to her advantage to stay legally married to me, so she fights divorce. What should I do?

WESTPORT

DEAR WESTPORT: You need some expert legal advice. It will cost you something, but it will be well worth it.

DEAR ABBY: Perhaps the idea of having a "Mamma Doll" that delivers does not appeal to some mothers of small children, but neither should the concept of lying appeal to them. I was never told that the stork delivered me, and no child of mine will ever be told such nonsense either.

I am now a sophomore in college and I saw kittens born, calves born and cattle mating—all before I was 7 years old, and I didn't go out and "try sex" at the first opportunity.

The child who has been brought up in a home where everything—concerning sex—is considered taboo and hush-hush is more apt to go out and experiment than the child who has grown up in a home where there is an open and healthy attitude about sex, and has all his questions answered honestly. The child who knows the facts of life will never be in trouble. He will know all about sex, and the consequences.

PAM IN RHODE ISLAND

DEAR ABBY: All mothers know that toys which do only one thing are good for only one day. Take the electric train. How dull it is. But a set of blocks can be a house, a garage, a car, a fort or a plane. An empty box can be anything from spaceship to a doll house.

A toy, to be educational, should stretch the imagination, therefore a doll that has a baby will soon become as dull as an electric train. Most little girls want to cuddle a baby doll and be "mommies" not obstetricians.

BETTY B. IN BEVERLY HILLS

I know of one case in which a mother constantly referred to the difficulty of her own childbirth to emphasize "look what I had to go through for you and now you won't even listen to me or take my advice."

If you actually confronted your friends you would find that they believe they are being helpful rather than fear-producing. Your own physician, of course, would have relieved your anxiety about what the so-called stitching operation is.

At the time of birth, a clean incision is made at the opening of the vagina shortly before delivery. The purpose of this incision is to avoid a laceration or tearing of the birth canal as the baby emerges. This is known as an episiotomy. It is a safe and painless procedure that is performed almost regularly with the birth of the first baby. Later pregnancies may not need this.

Pregnancy should be too happy a time to be spoiled by myths, false attitudes, and pointless provocations of fear.

My mother and two sisters had enlargements of the neck and needed surgery for a goiter. It now has been suggested that mine be removed and I have the usual fears that this may be cancerous.

In the last decade something happened to 11 million Americans that few of them bragged about—they became middle-aged. There are now 41.8 million in the 40 to 65 bracket. They make up only slightly more than a fifth of the nation's population but earn well above half its income.

Here's another good reason for looking up to American women: they're getting taller. The average woman under 30 today is 5 feet 4.8 inches tall and weighs 126.2 pounds. That is 1.4 inches taller and 1.9 pounds heavier than her feminine counterpart in 1939. During that generation, however, the bust size of the average woman remained unchanged—34 inches.

MRS. WILLIAM H. SYKES

Wedding In Lancaster Of Interest Here

Altar vases filled with white gladioli and blue, green and violet daisies graced the altar of First Presbyterian Church in Lancaster for the marriage of Miss Cathy Jean Ellis, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Warren L. Ellis, of Lancaster, and Mr. William Henry Sykes, son of Mr. and Mrs. H. B. Sykes, of Jeffersonville. Candelabra formed the background and satin bows marked the family pews.

Dr. Trousdale, the pastor, and Fr. Schlegel, of St. Mary's Catholic Church, in Lancaster, officiated at the double ring ceremony at noon June 27.

Escorted to the altar on the arm of her father, the bride wore a gown of white organza over taffeta with chapel length train. The bodice and sleeves were embroidered organza with high neck and cuffs of Venice lace. Her chapel length lace mantilla flowed to the floor and she carried a bouquet of white daisies, sweetheart roses and baby's breath.

Miss Linda Ellis was maid of honor for her sister. Her gown was a gaily flowered print on a blue background, with long sleeves, empire waist and gathered skirt. She wore daisies in her hair and carried a bouquet of white and blue daisies.

The bridesmaids, Mrs. Charles Rothert, and Mrs. Frank Stoops, college friends of the bride, and the bridesmaid, Miss Pam Sykes, sister of the bridegroom, all wore gowns identical to that of the maid of honor on green, aqua and violet backgrounds. They carried colonial bouquets of daisies and wore daisies in their hair.

Mr. H. B. Sykes served as best man for his brother. Seating the guests were Ronald Ellis, brother of the bride; Gerald Reikowsky, college friend of the groom, and Charles Rothert, friend of the couple.

Mrs. Ellis chose an aqua frock for her daughter's wedding and the bridegroom's mother wore a green dress. Both wore corsages of aqua, green and violet daisies.

For the reception, a buffet luncheon was served in the home of the bride's parents following the wedding. Hostesses were Mrs. William Moeller, sister of the groom, and Miss Linda Kellams, college friend of the bride.

The new Mrs. Sykes, a graduate of Bowling Green State University, taught fifth grade in Woodville. Mr. Sykes, also a graduate of BGU, is employed as an adult parole officer in Dayton.

For her going away outfit the bride wore a blue dress and a corsage of white sweetheart roses.

The couple is residing in Kettering.

Marriage Vows Exchanged In St. Colman's Church

Baskets of daisies and fan-shaped gladioli enhanced the altar of St. Colman's Catholic Church for the marriage of Miss Linda Doretta Smith, and Mr. William Russell Martindale Saturday evening. Violet bows, daisies and greenery marked the family pews.

The Rev. Fr. Richard J. Connelly officiated at the double-ring ceremony at 7:30 p.m. Mrs. Andrew Catanaro sang, "Ave Maria," accompanied by Mrs. J. Rankin Paul, organist.

Parents of the couple are Mr. and Mrs. Raldon M. Smith, 441 Eat St. and Mr. and Mrs. Russell Martindale, Prairie Rd.

Given by her father in marriage, the bride wore a formal gown of white organza and Venice lace. It was styled with a high neckline and bishop sleeves. The princess bodice and bell-shaped skirt, which ended in a chapel train, were accented with Venice lace appliques. Her elbow-length veil of silk illusion was caught to a demi-hat of Venice lace and seed pearls. Matching lace appliques were scattered through the illusion. She carried an arrangement of white sweetheart roses, lilies of the valley, white daisies with ivy, with ribbon lace.

Miss Susan Smith was maid of honor for her sister. Bridesmaids were Miss Ginny Smith and Miss Patty Smith, sisters of the bride, Miss Patti Trackett, 511 Circle Ave., Miss Mary Ann Fisher, of Fort Recovery and Miss DeAnna Grieshop, of Dayton.

They wore formal gowns of aqua chiffon with high necklines and long flowing sleeves. The bodice and neckline featured lace and ribbon trim in deeper shade of aqua. The silk veiling was held to a sheer petal headpiece of matching color and fabric. The maid of honor carried white and yellow daisies with yellow ribbon, while the bridesmaids carried yellow daisies with yellow ribbon.

Little Miss Becky Annon, niece of the bridegroom, was the flower girl. She wore an aqua silk organza dress similar to those of the bridesmaids. She wore yellow daisies and yellow ribbon streamers in her hair. Ring bearer was Donald Simones, of Enon.

Best man was Dan Martindale, a brother. Seating the wedding guests were David O. Echols, of Arlington, Wesley Johnson, of Dayton, Richard Smith, and Carl Lemmings, of Washington C. H. and another brother, David Martindale.

Mrs. Smith chose for her daughter's wedding a dress of lavender rosewood batiste trimmed with purple velvet ribbon. It had an empire waist and short sleeves. She wore a matching hat and veil with white accessories, and a corsage of white carnations and purple cornflowers. The bridegroom's mother wore an aqua linen sheath with lace jacket with which she combined white accessories. She wore a yellow cymbidium orchid corsage.

For the reception in the home of the bride's parents following the wedding, the table was covered with white lace over turquoise polished cotton underlay, trimmed with yellow and white daisies. Gold vases of white gladioli, daisies and yellow and white mums were in the rooms of the Smith home.

Centering the bride's table was a wedding cake encircled with yellow daisies and flanked with aqua tapers. Hostesses for the reception were Mrs. David Echols, sister of the bride, Miss Margaret Null, Miss Vicki Martindale and Miss Carol Martindale. Miss Marcia Sarver presided at the guest book. All wore white daisy corsages.

When the couple left for The Summit in the Pocono Mountains in Pennsylvania, the new Mrs. Martindale was wearing a pink linen frock with tucked bodice and knife pleated skirt with which she combined black accessories. She wore the white sweetheart roses from her bridal bouquet.

The new Mrs. Martindale, a 1968 graduate of Washington High School and of Sinclair Community College, Dayton, is employed in the Dayton appellate review office at Wright Patterson, AFB. Her husband, a 1967 graduate of Miami Trace High School, is employed by the Frigidaire Corp. in Dayton.

Polly Bergen Discusses Midi Vs. Mini, Makeup

By CENTRAL PRESS

LOS ANGELES — The war on mini versus midi entices and I believe in trying them all before discarding any one.

"Don't take it seriously," says Polly Bergen, winner of such awards as the Best Dressed in Television, etc. "Fashion is fun and should be treated that way. Now we can decide for ourselves what we want to wear."

"No longer are women slaves to skirt lengths the way they were in 1947 when they had to rush out and buy the 'New Look' or be ostracized by their fashion conscious friends. Women were freed from that with the arrival of the mini."

6 Record-Herald Monday, July 20, 1970

Washington C. H., Ohio

few years ago.

"I know I have about five different lengths in my closet and I believe in trying them all before discarding any one."

"However, I do feel this way about today's fashions — if you wear a particular look, make it a total look. For example, don't wear high heels with your mini, or floor hugging footwear with you midi. It ruins the whole image."

A SIMILAR rule applies about makeup, Miss Bergen says. "When it makes more impact this autumn, for instance, the midi will call for a small sleek head with an intensity of color particularly on the checks and around the eyes."

For the summer and the shorter skirt lengths, however, she likes to see softer makeup with pastel blues, violets and buttercup worn around the eyes.

"Liner, if you wear it too, should be a mere threat and pastel in color, while lashes should be so flexible and uneven in length, that they bend right to the natural shape of the eye and don't distort it," Polly says.

Miss Bergen has just introduced her own eyelashes and aside from making them extremely flexible, she has spent much time working on their color.

Now for summer's new exciting "liveness look," she has created Natural Blonde Eyelashes. Fabulous with a long, streaky mane, all she suggests you add are a few fake freckles.

Jimmy Stewart's TV Show Triumph For Hal Kanter

By BOB THOMAS
Associated Press Writer

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — The prize catch for a television series is James Stewart, and the man who did the catching is one-time gag writer Hal Kanter. Recently NBC announced that Stewart would star in a half-hour comedy series for the 1971-72 season. The news came as a surprise to the television trade, because no one believed that a film star like Stewart would consent to a series.

"After all, Jimmy's still making a couple of movies a year, at good money plus a percentage of the take," said one observer. He's had all the fame, and he's loaded. At his age 62 why would he want to take on the grind of a TV series?"

Hal Kanter wondered, too. He is a showman who has turned out gags for Danny Kaye and Amos 'n' Andy, movie scripts for Bob Hope and Elvis Presley, and television shows for George Gobel and Diahann Carroll. Kanter is the fellow who created "Julia" and continues to produce.

"We had Jimmy on a 'Julia' last season, in connection with his work as chairman on the Red Cross drive," said the producer. "Everyone on the show was impressed by his easy professionalism."

"He had a call for 9 o'clock, which is the time most actors would arrive at the studio. At nine Jimmy was not only at the studio; he was in wardrobe, had few months later he was called by a television executive at Warner Bros. Would he be interested in creating a television him, Jimmy was out of his chair series for Jimmy Stewart? Kanter said yes.

Kanter had previously worked with Stewart on the Gobel show and in a film, "Dear Brigitte." The actor was impressed by the speed and efficiency of the "Julia" operation, and Kanter asked if he has considered doing a series.

"I'm not too interested," Stewart remarked. "First of all, I'd have to decide if I wanted to do a series at all. Then I'd have to consider what kind of a show I'd do. But I haven't reached the first question yet."

Kanter dropped the matter. A month later he was in wardrobe, had few months later he was called by a television executive at Warner Bros. Would he be interested in creating a television

Southern California town. He expects it to be "The Jimmy Stewart Show."

"This may surprise you, but 'The Fred MacMurray show' is actually called 'My Three Sons.' And it has been doing all right," Kanter said.

House Eyes Bill To Allow TV In Committee Hearings

WASHINGTON (AP) — TV or not TV, that was the question before the House today as it resumed consideration of a reform bill designed to open more congressional procedures to the public.

Unlike the Senate, which welcomed the lights and cameras of the television crews to its committee hearings early in the TV age, the House has steadfastly refused to admit them.

Under the bill, television coverage would be limited to committee hearings and not include proceedings on the House floor, although an amendment to cover action in the chamber itself had been expected.

The bill requires a majority vote by a committee to permit televised hearings and gives any witness the right to have the cameras shut down while he is testifying.

Furthermore, the privilege of televising its hearings could be withdrawn if, in the committee's judgment, the material appearing on the screen tended to "distort the purposes of the hearing" or "to cast discredit on the dishonor on the House, the committee, or any member of the House."

The television coverage provision is one of the most controversial in the bill and it underwent several revisions during drafting.

An earlier version would have required broadcasters to prove what they showed on the screen was "accurate and legitimate news coverage."

The earlier language and most of the opposition to the provision reflected a fear in the minds of many members that television will seize on some isolated, bizarre or sensational incident in an otherwise decorous hearing and thereby give a false impression.

The bill also provides an absolute ban against the use in a political campaign of any film shot during a hearing, and also prohibits commercials in a live telecast of a hearing.

Also still to come is a vote on the key amendment by a bipartisan group to end the practice of members voting anonymously on amendments when bills are under consideration on the House floor.

The vote on that amendment is likely Wednesday and House leaders hope to bring the bill itself to a final vote Thursday or Friday.

OU Student Backs Music Festival

COVINGTON, Ky. (AP) — Promoters continue to book acts for the "Eden Rock Festival," planned for August 21-25 at a farm in Independence.

The promoters, Ray Hill, Covington, and Gene Spiegel, Cincinnati, said they are booking nationally known acts for the festival and will supplement them with locally prominent groups.

Although Independence area residents have expressed concern about the event, Spiegel and Hill assure them there will be no problems.

"It's foolish for the neighbors to get excited," Hill explained. Spiegel predicted as many as 40,000 rock fans and musicians would attend the festival. First aid, food and sanitary facilities would be provided, he said. Approval is being sought from health authorities.

Independent Police Chief Lindo Foster said that the community would rather not have the festival, but nothing can be done about it. Because the event has been well publicized, attempts to stop it could create greater problems, Foster said. Spiegel, a photography student at Ohio University, said every effort would be made to cooperate with authorities.

State Enforcement Chief Dies At 59

REMONT, Ohio (AP) — A heart attack has claimed the life of Wade Knight, 59, of Columbus, chief of enforcement operations for the Beer and Wine Division of the state Department of Liquor Control.

Knight, a Columbus police captain before joining the liquor department eight years ago, suffered the attack Sunday while here visiting his daughter and family. Surviving are the widow, Edna; son, Robert, of Columbus; daughter, Linda Beck, of Fremont, and two grandchildren.

The Louvre, in Paris, was once the chief palace of the kings of France.

The vote on that amendment is likely Wednesday and House leaders hope to bring the bill itself to a final vote Thursday or Friday.

Charles Dickens and William Makepeace Thackeray are generally considered to be the two outstanding English novelists at the middle of the Nineteenth century.

Poitier Believes Black Is Also Profitable

By ARMY ARCHERD
Central Press Assn.

HOLLYWOOD — Most actors, when they turn to production, are content with one company upon which they rely as an outlet for a pet project. Not so with Sidney Poitier.

In addition to being one of the busiest and biggest box office attractions in a quiet movie market, Sidney also actively heads not one, but three production companies. He's a hard-headed businessman.

"There are no black guys regularly producing motion pictures that I know of. However, I think it's absolutely necessary that all black actors do not sit at home waiting for a phone call from a white producer to determine whether they have a job or not."

"Understandably, most black actors or actors in general, do not want to become producers. In striving for creative fulfillment, they are not sure that they want the additional headaches and responsibilities involved with production. But a few of us have the know-how, weight and economic ability to do it and I think we should."

His first company E & R Productions which recently completed "Kane," is named for his parents (deceased) Evelyn and Reginald. His second, primarily a holding company, is named in honor of a brother and sister (also deceased) Verden and Cedric.

His third company is one involved with fellow Oscar winners Paul Newman and Barbra Streisand, called First Artists Productions.

WHY DIDN'T Sidney form his company with pals Sammy Davis, Jr. and Harry Belafonte instead of with the two white stars? For Sidney, the answer is simply one of economics.

"With Sammy and Harry, I would have some trouble raising, say $4 million for film financing. With Newman and Streisand I would have the same effort to raise $25 million! From a purely financial standpoint, my choice is obvious."

AS FOR Belafonte, Poitier noted, "I have great admiration for Harry who, as a black producer has done remarkably well on his way. He has done positive things in television and on stage. Now he is successfully establishing himself in motion pictures. Hopefully, Jim Brown, who is a very intelligent actor and a good businessman, will ultimately be able to produce his own films, too."

The first motion picture in which Poitier was financially involved was his Academy Award-winning "Lilies of the Field." This was a low-budget film which no one particularly wanted to make. And everyone balked at Poitier's $250,000 salary (at that time — it's now considerably increased!).

Poitier, with single minded purpose, wanted to make that film and offered to take his chances with the rest of the investors and do the film for no salary guarantee but with a percentage of the profits. The astuteness of his business judgement paid off — and he

And those who have worked with Poitier know that when he is in artistic control — he is indeed, in control.

Post 25 Splits With Portsmouth To Hold Lead

WCH In First Place With 4 Games Left

By KIRK ARNOTT

Record-Herald Sports Writer
Sunday's doubleheader split with Portsmouth enabled Washington C. H.'s Post 25 Pennington-Wilson American Legion baseball team to hang on to its shaky position at the top of the South Central Ohio League standings. Post 25 clouted the Rivermen 9-2 in the opener, but dropped the second one 8-5.

Saturday, Lima took two games from Post 25, 5-0 and 10-5.

Power, and lots of it, accounted for the win over Portsmouth. Two homers, a triple and five doubles were among the 12 hits bunched by Post 25 as it defeated Portsmouth's ace righthander Darrell Pace.

Bill Thomas homered and doubled to drive in three runs; Steve Bihl clouted a two-run homer; and Mike Mitchell tripled.

Steve Bowers, had three doubles, and Jeff Blake also contributed a two-bagger.

Bryce Brown ran his record to 10-2 as he fanned 10 and walked two while allowing nine hits. He was tagged for a first-inning homer by Pace, but his teammates bounced back on Thomas' two-run blast in the bottom of the first.

Marty Jones, with two hits, added to the Post 25 offense as well.

PORTSMOUTH

Prevented Post 25 from sweeping the three-game season series by pushing across a sixth-inning run to break a 5-5 tie, then adding two runs in the seventh.

Rick Day gave up seven hits in pitching the victory. His teammates supplied him with an 11-hit offense. Swavel, Day, Litteral and James all had two hits, one of Swavel's being a homer.

Portsmouth scored three times in the first inning, but Post 25 came back with four in its half of the frame. An unearned tally gave Washington C. H. a two-run lead, but Swavel's two-run homer tied the score.

Steve Bowers and Randy Alkire pitched for Post 25, with Alkire taking the loss.

Marty Jones and Dave Wackman had two singles apiece for the losers, and Steve Bihl had a long double that went through the fence.

* * *

LARRY FARLEY and Jeff Parent combined for a two-hit shutout in the first game of Saturday's twinbill. The Lima duo allowed only two singles, fanning five and walking two.

Moening and T. George had two hits each for Lima, and Parent and M. George both rapped doubles.

Don Case and Randy Alkire pitched for Post 25, with Case taking the loss.

Billy Casper Wins Phillie Golf Turney

By MIKE RECHT

Associated Press Sports Writer

The New York Mets thought they already had seen Joe Foy at his worst, and they knew they hadn't seen him at his best. Well, now they've seen everything.

Foy gave them quite an eyeful Sunday, jerking them up and down like a yo yo until he finally landed them on top.

First, the bad Joe Foy. Already he had been a tremendous disappointment to the Mets, who acquired him from Kansas City during the winter as the man to solve their long standing problem at third base. He was hitting around .200 most of the first half of the season. And Sunday, he also showed how bad he could be in the field.

For the first time in his major league career, Foy made three errors in a game.

Casper believes in the theory of positive thinking. It helped him win the $15,000 Philadelphia Golf Classic by three strokes Sunday with a tournament record 72-hole total of 274.

The 39-year-old Casper started the final round leading by two strokes over the 6,615-yard Whitemarsh Valley Country Club course. After nine holes of the final round he trailed Dick Crawford by one.

"I made up my mind I had to make some birdies if I was going to win," Casper related after collecting the $30,000 first prize.

Casper made his birdies, four to be exact, for a four under par 32 on the back nine and a 68 for the day over the par 72 course.

It was good enough to turn back challenges by Crawford, and later Terry Wilcox.

Casper put together rounds of 68-67-68 for a 14 under par 274, two strokes better than the eight year-old tournament's previous best.

Crawford helped Casper when the 31-year-old Arkansan took a triple bogey on the par four 10th hole. He would up in a triple tie at 279 with Bunko Henry and Frank Beard.

"Yes," said Orlando Panthers Head Coach Pat Massey, "we're quite serious about signing both of them. We're in the process of negotiating."

Steve Palinkas, just out of the Army where he played military football for three years, found himself without a holder when he started practicing three months ago for a Panther tryout. So Palinkas pressed his wife Pat into service.

"The first 50 or so times I closed my eyes and flinched a little, but it's not hard at all," says the 130-pound housewife who once was a finalist in a beauty pageant at Northern Illinois University.

Palinkas led Crawford and Wilcox by two at the start of the last 18 holes. He lost the lead after he bogeyed four and Crawford made birdies at one and five.

Casper, however, rolled in a 14-foot birdie putt on the sixth to draw even. Crawford then carded a birdie two at nine to lead by a stroke with nine holes to play. Wilcox trailed the leader by two.

Rozelle Tries For Accord As All-Star Grid Tilt Nears

NEW YORK (AP) — Commissioner Pete Rozelle tries today to get the warring owners and players of the National Football League back to the bargaining table.

There was no indication what either side would do. Contract talks have been stalemated nearly a week and the fate of the College All-Star Game at Chicago hinges on a critical 72-hour period which began today.

The owners and players are still $11 million apart in their contract dispute.

Rozelle, it was learned, would like a settlement before Wednesday. That's when the Federal Mediation and Conciliation Service has scheduled a Washington session on the baseline.

The NFL Players Association, headed by veteran Baltimore Colt tight end John Mackay, asked federal labor mediators to step into the impasse.

The owners haven't agreed to appear at the 7 p.m. Wednesday meeting in Washington.

Letters To The Editor

EDITOR, RECORD HERALD:

I sincerely hope you will print the following letter in your newspaper, as it is the only way I can think of to thank all the persons I wish to thank. I am writing to express my appreciation (as well as that of many others, I'm sure) to all the people who had anything to do with making the Jeffersonville Little League ball games a success this summer. Many persons worked very hard and received little thanks.

A special thanks to Gordon McCarty who was manager over all the teams. Also I appreciated and say thank you to the umpires, Mr. McCarty, Lindy Sharrett, Clark Coe and Harold Anderson. Theirs is a thankless job; many who grumble at the calls would not think of undertaking it themselves.

I want them to know I appreciated the many hours they put in umpiring when they could have been swimming or enjoying some other leisure, just so that my sons and about 100 others could learn the sport of baseball. I sincerely hope the criticism of a few of the parents will not spot it and prevent our having a Little League again next year.

I'd like to especially thank Bob Steele, Clarence Duncan, David Groves and Gordon Gillette who coached my sons' teams. Also a big thank you to all the other teams coaches, although I do not recall all their names. Each one worked very hard to help our sons and all of us parents should be very thankful, not critical.

I don't want to forget to include a thank you to the various business firms who helped to furnish the teams uniforms and also Elizabeth Satterfield and the Lions Club who provided cold pop for the thirsty fans to purchase.

Old Computers Enter The Auction Market

By JOHN CUNIFF
AP Business Analyst

NEW YORK (AP) — All things age. The electronic computer, which seems to have arrived on the scene only yesterday, and whose greatest promise may still lie in the future, is being introduced to the auction market.

Like old cars, rugs, furniture, automobiles, horses and what not, 95 items of computer hardware, including an "antique" panel from one of the first commercial models will be auctioned here July 30.

The news may come as something of a shock to those involved in the information revolution, because everything about computers once seemed to be the latest, the newest, the most innovative and futuristic.

But, it seems, there really is little special about computers. Nothing at all, according to a fellow who helped arrange the auction, a man who in the past has been responsible for auctioning used cars.

"People seem to think of the computer as a big god," he said, "but all it is another machine. Maybe a bit cleaner and neater, but that's all." That's how Joseph Kirby of Time Brokers Inc., auction sponsor, describes it.

A spokesman for Parke-Bernet Galeries, the world renowned auction house which will produce the auction, described her feelings this way:

"The people here are very excited. This is a challenge. We've sold art, cars and horses. Why not computers?"

Well, why not if you have no further use for one?

Included among the items is one old computer that was practically given to the auctioneer.

Or at least it cost only $1 from a stock broker who clearly wasn't impressed by its prowess nor emotionally involved in its past.

According to Kirby, the broker had tried to sell the equipment, which is in operational order, but couldn't. Moreover, he was faced with a storage problem. "He got fed up," Kirby said. "He said, 'good riddance to bad rubbish!'"

It was another sad old warhorse that sparked the idea for the auction, a computer that was reliable but costly to maintain and which Kirby and his associates wished merely to dispose of.

"Old" is a relative term in the computer industry. One so-called minicomputer on consignment is only 1½ years old. The old warhorse that was considered for burning is 10 years old.

Obsolescence rather than age is perhaps a more accurate measure. While chronologically young, computers can become outmoded by rapid advances in technology. "Generations" are spawned every few years; a fourth is awaited.

Then somebody mentioned Parke-Bernet. The idea catapulted from there."

The old computer now seems destined to have an interesting and maybe stormy life. It is described by the auctioneer as one "suitable for handling the ... requirements of a small republic until the rulers could afford a new model."

built during "the dawn of the information revolution," and so the panel is valued "largely as a memento of the early days of data processing," descriptive literature relates.

TV Viewing

By JERRY BUCK

AP Television-Radio Writer
HOLLYWOOD (AP) — You might say that the ABC Movie of the Week "How Awful About Allan" was 7½ years in the making—but it really only took 12 days to film.

This spooky tale stars Anthony Perkins, Julie Harris and Joan Hackett and was written by Henry Farrell, whose past works include "Whatever Happened to Baby Jane?"

The reason it took so long is that the producer, George Edwards, said he first called Farrell 7½ years ago and suggested they do the film. They didn't get around to it until recently.

Perkins says he much prefers the 12 days. He took time out from directing the Off-Broadway production in New York of "Steambath," in which he also stars.

"I find the TV movie very different, but it's the way I think all movies should be made," said Perkins, who was wearing yellowish pajamas and a blue checked robe for a scene. "It's fast, it has spontaneity. It brings out the best in an actor. It's sort of like doing a live TV."

TOLEDO, Ohio (AP)—Authorities suspect a firebomb caused a $40,000 blaze in Schwartz' Restaurant on Toledo's south side early Sunday.

Your Horoscope

The Stars Say—BY ESTRELLITA

For Tomorrow

STELLAR influences afflict ing personal relationships life now, so things should go well with associates and intimates. Maintain the contacts that have value, intellectually as well as materially. In your turn, give of yourself generously to those who need help.

For The Birthday

If tomorrow is your birthday, your chart indicates good prospects for the next 12 months. Within 10 days you will enter a most generous 3½-month planetary period governing your material interests so that, by capitalizing on every opportunity to advance your job-wise and by planning sound fiscal programs as of now, you should see fine results for your efforts by Nov. 15. And, before your next birthday has rolled around, you should find yourself in an enviable position where career, prestige and monetary stability are concerned.

In the latter connection there is one admonition, however: Do not speculate for the balance of 1970—but especially in November and December, when some unforeseen demands may be made upon you and ready

Traffic Tops Council Slate

Lawmakers Plan Finance Review

City Council is expected to review traffic problems in the downtown area and discuss finances during its regular session Wednesday.

Councilmen held a special work session on these matters last week.

City Manager Clarence A. Christman has presented three traffic pattern plans for Council consideration.

One would create a left-turn-only lane on Court Street at the intersections of North, Fayette and Main streets. The creation of the extra lane would mean the elimination of approximately 20 parking spots in the downtown area.

Creation of a one-way traffic pattern, as recommended in the Central Business District report accepted by Council, also has been presented for consideration.

The preliminary pattern, as described to Council at its last session, would make Court Street one-way east and Market Street one-way west between North and Hinde streets. North Street would be one-way north and Hinde Street one-way south between Market and Court streets.

The third alternative being reviewed by Council would eliminate left turns off Court Street. Some opposition from the state is expected on this proposal as several state highways would be involved.

Ordinances prohibiting parking on parts of North and East streets will be read for a third time at the session. The ordinances would prohibit parking on the north side of East Street from North Street to Washington Avenue, and on the east side of North Street from Court to East Street.

Woman Injured Seriously In Farm Shooting

A 27-year-old Fayette County woman was critically wounded Saturday afternoon in an apparent accidental shooting at her home on Barrett Road, near Greenfield.

Fayette County Sheriff Don Thompson said the woman, Ruth Ford, wife of David Ford, suffered a gunshot wound in the chest near the heart. She was first taken to Greenfield Municipal Hospital, was transferred to Fayette Memorial Hospital and then was moved to University Hospital, Columbus.

Ford told Sheriff Thompson that he was shooting at groundhogs from the doorway of his home when the accident occurred. He said as he turned in the doorway the weapon accidentally discharged and the bullet struck his wife while she was sitting on the couch in the living room.

The only other person in the home at the time was June Leach, of Washington C. H., who has been living with the Fords, Sheriff Thompson said. She verified Ford's statement, the sheriff added.

The Sheriff's Department received notification at 1:11 p.m. from Fayette Memorial Hospital of the shooting incident. However, Sheriff Thompson said, the victim already had been transferred to the Columbus hospital before he was notified.

GREENFIELD police said Ford brought his wife to Municipal Hospital in his car. She was transferred by ambulance to Fayette Memorial and on to Columbus in a matter of less than an hour. She arrived at Fayette Memorial at 12:45 p.m., hospital records showed.

Sheriff Thompson said he called University Hospital police Sunday and received information as to the circumstances of the shooting.

Sheriff Thompson checked the residence and found it locked, but saw the weapon, a .22 caliber rifle, lying on the floor near the door. He later confiscated the weapon.

The shooting took place in a tenant house on a farm owned by James Beatty for whom Ford works. Sheriff Thompson said there were only the three people present at the time of the shooting.

Mrs. Ford remains in critical condition in the Columbus Hospital. Sheriff Thompson said he hopes to be able to talk to the victim by Tuesday if further surgery is not required. He said the bullet remains in the woman's chest.

Library's Summer Youth Sessions Reach Final Week

The make-believe atmosphere creating a world of fantasy, for preschoolers and first, second and third graders continues to prevail during the final week of the summer activities series at Carnegie Public Library.

Mrs. Gladys Strevey, librarian, feels that the programs, geared to catch the imagination of the child, have helped to stimulate their reading habits. Since the programs started the third week in June, the response has been "most encouraging and gratifying" Mrs. Strevey said.

As the preschoolers near the end of their journey in the "Enchanted Forest" Tuesday at 3:00 p.m., they will have an adventure with "The Gingerbread Man" who will perform for them on film. Linda Whiteside and Carol Walston, of the WSHS Future Teachers, will provide games, contests and craft in "Fascination Field", another colorful spot in the magical land.

Planned for the final entertainment Friday at 3:00 p.m. is the party. Those in charge have created an aura of mystery around this program but intimate that "sheer enjoyment" will be the reward for those attending.

A party together with the showing of three filmstrips will constitute the Big Top Circus Fun program Wednesday at 3 p.m. when the children's department concludes its series of summer activities for first, second and third graders. The filmstrips with humorous cartoon treatment include "Lady and the Tramp", "Pecos Bill" and "Ferdinand the Bull". Mrs. Glenn Grove, Mrs. Kristine Ambrose and Miss Jennifer Thompson, encouraged with the enthusiasm of the past five weeks, are anticipating a repeat performance.

Loss Set At $800 In Automobile Fire

Damage was estimated at more than $800 in a car blaze on Interstate 71 at 2:25 p.m. Saturday. A rear-engined compact caught fire at the Ohio 729 overpass, sheriff's deputies reported.

Philip Cousins, of Dayton, said the car blazed up when a fan belt broke, overheating the motor. Passing truckers extinguished most of the fire, but Jeffersonville firemen were called to put out smoldering blazes in the back seat and spare tire.

In the only other fire call over the weekend, Washington C. H. firemen went to Mobile Dairy Bars, Inc., Robinson Rd., to extinguish a trash blaze which caused no damage. The report was received at 9:08 p.m. Saturday.

County crews also will be sealing roads in Paint and Jefferson townships during the week.

State and city crews will be repairing berms and mowing weeds during the coming week. The city crew also will be patching streets where necessary.

Sheriff's deputies said the 1969 model car ran off the right side of the road in a ditch for 162 feet before it overturned. Damage was estimated at $1,900.
